

STAIRWAY TO THE CLOUDS

I took a stairway to the clouds
And a camel to the moon
A trampoline to Timbuktu
A rocket to my room

A skateboard to the Red Sea
A submarine to Mars
A freight train to Atlantis
I dived up to the stars

Parachuting on the ocean
I rode my bike down deep
I took a racing car to bed
And drove myself to sleep

I caught a bus that flew
To a bridge across the seas
And then in my canoe
I slalomed through the trees

I scootered on thin ice
Space-hopped into space
With ice skates on the running track
I raced the human race

I bounced upon my pogo stick
All round the equator
I scaled the peak of Everest
Thanks to an elevator

I rope swing through the cities
Piggy backed through towns
Rode horses down the rivers
Ski'd deep down underground

I swim across the deserts
Surf on escalators
Rollerskate on glaciers
Leapfrog high skyscrapers

I've travelled many places
In many different styles

Near and far and deep and wide
Millions of miles

No matter how I wander
No matter where I roam
Of all these special journeys
The best one is ... back home
